Freedom of Information Act 2000

I am writing in response to your request for information made under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 in relation to No Deal Brexit.

You asked:

1) How much money has been spent thus far on preparations for a no-deal Brexit? If possible, could you provide a breakdown of where money has been spent?

2) As of now, do you expect or have any plans for a Budget dealing specifically with the impact of Brexit?

If so, which areas will this budget focus on?

If not, are there any alternative plans, such as an ordinary budget review in which you will consider the impact of Brexit?

Trust response:

Currently the Trust has an EU Exit budget line and is aware that in the event of a no deal exit costs can be charged to this as they occur. As of September 1st 2019 the Trust has spent approx. £3000 on deposit for rooms which can be refunded if not used. Other costs such as planning time have been subsumed in to normal emergency planning team activities.
